

The Jewish Federation of Lincoln invites you to a performance at the Lied Center for Performing Arts that puts Jewish music on the stage in a modern fashion sure to appeal to young and old. "Abraham Inc" will be at the Lied on Saturday, March 6, 2010, at 7:30 p.m.
Quoting from the Lied Center website:

Klezmer clarinet virtuoso David Krakauer collaborates with long-time James Brown trombonist Fred Wesley and beat architect SoCalled. The result is an all-out klezmer-funk dance party. While firmly rooted in traditional klezmer folk tunes, the band "hurls the tradition of klezmer music into the rock era" (The New York Times). Enjoy a concert of jazz, blues, hip-hop and funk!

Klezmer music originated in the medieval shtetls and ghettos of Eastern Europe. Klezmer captures the spirit of Yiddish music, the humor of Yiddish tales, and adds techniques and styles from other cultures. To learn more about Klezmer Music, please visit the following website: <http://borzykowski.users.ch/EnglMCKlezmer.htm>.

After the performance, you are invited to an informal reception sponsored by the Federation at the Lied's Steinhardt room. Dessert, coffee, and soda will be served.
